Earthquake Shocks at Naples-Palermo in the Grasp of the Destroyer.

LONDON, September 18.—A telegram from Manilla states that the Spaniards have effected a de facto occupation of Yap.

London, September 18.—The populace of Palermo, Sicily, have become panic-stricken, owing to the prevalence of cholera there, and are fleeing from the town. There is a great scarcity of food, and the people Naples are sending money and provisions for the relief of the sufferers. A Daily News Paris dispatch says that Palermo is illuminated in bonor of the appearance to a native in a vision of a saint, who announced that the cholers will speedily vanish.

ROME, September 18.—At Parma to-day five new cases of cholera and four deaths were reported. In the city of Palermo, Sicily, the epidemic is increasing to an alarming extent. The popular prejudice against doctors aggravates the situation.

PALERMO, September 18.—There were one hundred and sixty new cases of cholera and seventy deaths reported to the authorities during the last twenty-four hours.

LONDON, September 18.—An earthquake of eight seconds' duration occurred to-day at Naples. Another dispatch says that the Dolphin, which was sunk by a collision, was bound from London to Havre, and that seventeen of her passengers and crew are missing.

Ble Jumbo's Boner.

Washington, September 18.—Jumbo's skeleton will pass into the possession of the National Museum, and soon be brought to this city. Prof. Ward, of Rochester, arrived at St. Thomas, Ontario, yesterday, with several assistants, and removed the skin from Jumbo's carcass and stripped the flesh from the bones. The skin be will sent to Tuft's College and the bones to the National Museum. It is not expected that the bones will arrive here for ten days or two weeks. Mr. F. True, the curator of the section of mammals at the National Museum says that Jumbo's skeleton came to the museum through an arrangement made with Mr. Barnum something over a year ago. Then Jumbo's will was made for him, and his skin and bones were bequeathed to different institutions. Mr. True was given and his skin and bones were bequeathed to different institutions. Mr. True was given the choice of the skeleton or the skin, and chose the skeleton. Of course Jumbo's early demise was not foreseen at that day. There was a probability of his living one hundred years or more. Jumbo was in the flush of youth, being only about thirty years of age. He came into the possession of the London Zoological Society in 1860. They obtained him from the Jardin des Plantes, Paris, by exchange. He was then young and comparatively small. He remained at the London Zoological Garden until he was purchased by Barnum three years ago. If it had not been for the mortgage which the National Museum had upon his bones, it is thought there would have been a great sruggle for the possession of the skeleton, as the skeleton of a male African elephant of such size is esteemed a great prize, not only in a popular sense, but scientifically. It is not known at the Museum whether the bones were injured any in the collision with the freight train or not. If any of the bones are fractured they can be repaired. Mr. Lucas the osteologist who will have charge of the work of mounting the skeleton, remarked to-day that he would much rather have to repair the fractured bones of an elephant than of a dog or smaller animal. Mr. Lucas said it would probably be a year before Jumbo's skeleton will take its place in the museum. After the bones are received they will be put to soak, and it will require several months before the process of maceration and bleaching are completed. Cold weather is not favorable to these processes. Another huge elephant's skeleton is now gadergoing these process of maceration and bleaching are completed. Mormon Bishop's Sentence for Polygamy

SALT LAKE, UTAH, September 18.—Bishop John Sharp, Utah Director of the Union John Sharp, Utah Director of the Union Pacific, one of the wealthlest and most influential Mormons living, appeared in court to-day and pleaded guilty of unlawful co-habitation. He claimed that his plural marriage was entered into before any statute against it, and in good faith according to their religion, but recognized the supremacy of his adopted country's laws, and would live within them henceforth, and would not advise any one else to break them. He was fined $300, and discharged on payment thereof. Bishop Sharp's conduct causes much comment on the atreet to-night. The "dyed in the wool" Mormons condemn him as a coward whose faith was frightened out of him by threatened imprisonment, but the progressive party in the church commend his course as opening the way for others to escape, as he will certainly have followers soon.

Notable Surgical Operation.

' Laballe, It.L., September 18.—A re-markable operation was performed here this afternoon upon the person of a Polish woman. Mrs. Wm. Lugdeda. It consisted woman. Mrs. Wm. Lugdeda. It consisted in the removal from the patient of an ovarian tumor weighing twenty-five pounds, and the cutting away of a large portion of the mesentery. About eight gallons of water were taken away at the same time. The total weight of the matter removed from the woman was upward of seventy-five pounds. The physicians have hopes of her recovery.

Legal Time in Michigan.

Legal Time in Michigan.

1 Detroots, Mich., September 18.—Ninety days after the adjournment of the State Legislature the laws enacted become binding. To-day is the ninetieth day, and among the laws now in force are the tenhour labor law and an enactment making central standard time legal in this State. In accordance with this, Michigan clocks have been turned back, and everything is done earlier in the day—by the clock.

Bible Peddler Murdered.

Dixon, I.L., September 18.—There is great excitement in this town over the discovery of the murder of Fred Thiel, of Elgin, twenty-two years of age, who had of late been peddling Bibles, albums, &c., for a Chicago firm. The body was found partially buried on the roadside, near the city. A French Canadian named Moses has been acrested on suspicion.

NAUGHTY TRUSTEES.

Others Implicated in the Pollard Swind-

BROWNSTOWS, IND., September 17.—It is, now definitely known that Owen Township in this (Jackson) county, is implicated in the Pollard swindling scheme. The present Trustee, Wm. H. Bower, has informed a correspondent that he has knowledge of outstanding certificates of indebted-ness amounting to $6,500, and he thinks the total amount will reach $10,000 or more before the end is reached. Pollard was in the county last fall and made several visits to the Trustee then in power, Robert N. Martin. Last June Martin resigned the office, made settlement with the Commissesoners,
and turned over to his successor, Wm. H.
Bower ail the funds on hand.
About this time the wife of Champion Cummings, of a neighboring township, packed her trunk and departed for the West, leaving her husband behind.
Since then it has been ascertained that
Martin followed her to Kansas, and remained with her until after the Daviess County developments, when he abandoned her, and left for other ellims, probably Canada.
Previously he bore a very good reputation for honesty and integrity. He is a married man, of about forty years of age, and leaves behind a wife and several children.
It is not believed that any other Township
Trustees became entangled in Pollard's meshes.

Vincennes, Ind., September 17.—The total amount will reach $10,000 or more berustees became entangled in Foliatus meshes.

Vincennes, Ind., September 17.—The County Commissioners ordered the Trustees of the various townships in this county to make a showing under oath, October 5, of all outstanding orders against their respective townships. This is done to allay fears on that score, as it is pretty certain that the Trustees of Knox are sail right.

Crawfordsville, Ind., September 17.—The Board of Commissioners investigated the Trustees of the different townships and school corporations of this county to-day. The reports show a total indebtedness of $3,90,06 for the eleven townships and three school corporations in the county. The indebtedness is mostly in bonds issued to build school-houses and money borrowed. There seems to have been no crooked work in the Chicago school supply deals in the county.

county.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 17.—A dispatch received here states that Norman L. Johnson, Trustee of Liberty Township, Parke County, is missing from his home, and is supposed to have gone to Canada. He has issued a considerable amount of fraudulent orders.

County Ind. September 17.—Great fraudulent orders.

CONYDON, IND., September 17.—Great excitement prevails in Morgan Township over the frauds practiced by Trustee Henry A. Thorp, of that township. His wife has disposed of all his property, and it is supposed is going to join her husband in Canada. Mr. Thorp was held in the highest esteem by his neighbors previous to this affair.

Blown Through the Tree-Tops.

GRAND CHAIN, ILL., September 17 .- A terrible explosion occurred at the sawmill owned by Captain James Bartleson, of this place, this morning, killing two men and wounding four others, including one colored man, who, it is thought, will not recover. Mr. Robert McIntyre, engineer, and Siles A. Cramer, laborer, were killed outright. McIntyre's body was blown a distance of three hundred yards from the mill over the tree-tops, and was traced by pieces of clothing and entrails clinging to the limbs. He leaves a wife and two children i comfortable circumstances. Cramer was blown about one hundred yards against a large tree and his back broken. He was a young man about twenty-eight years old, lately married, and leaves a wife in destitute circumstances. Mr. Robert McIntyre, engineer, and Silas

A Guilty Bank President.

ERIE, PA., September 17 .- At six o'clock to-night the jury returned a verdict of guilty on all the ten counts, in the indictment for fraud and conspiracy against President Adam Brabender, who wrecked his bank and ruined thousands. The verhis bank and ruined thousands. The ver-dict was received with enthusiasm among the swindled depositors of the three bursted banks. Had the verdict been otherwise a serious riot was insvitable, the victims being goaded to desperation. Braebuder, who is superintendent of a Sunday-school and a pillar of his church, says he has been sacrificed to the public clamor for a victim. He will be sentenced to-morrow. He is seventy years of age and very infirm. The jurors say his own admissions sealed his doom.

Disaster to an Aeronaut.

MONMOUTH, ILL., September 17 .- The spectacle of an enormous balloon swaying above the city a few hundred feet, drew people from their stores and houses this afternoon till the streets were crowded. The excitement became intense when shortly the air ship swooped down and impaled itself on the spire of the Catholic church, near the Public Square. The balloon at once collapsed, and a hundred citizens helped to drag the concern to the ground. The basket was empty, barring a torn shirtsleeve, a cuff and some branches of oak, indicating a collision with tree-tops somewhere. All efforts to discover whence the balloon came, and the name and fate of its occupants, have as yet been unavailing. ople from their stores and houses the Killing Her Husband With Ground Glass.

MONTREAL, September 17 .- Society here is astounded over a case of husband poison-ing and elopement. Charles Wilson, a prominent citizen, has suffered for some time with an unaccountable illness. Finally, time with an unaccountable illness. Finally, by accident, a Mr. Smith discovered letters written by Wilson's young and beautiful wife to his son, Bertie Smith, a highly respectable young man, filled with endearing terms, and saying she was slowly killing her husband with potions of ground glass. Mr. Wilson, who now looked like one in the last stages of consumption, was notified. The wife got wind of the disclosure, and fied to Boston, where she is now stopping under an assumed name.

The Ladies Voted.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., September 17.—In the election for School Commissioners here women generally voted. This had the effect of bringing out a very large male vote, and the total number of votes cast was twenty times as great as usual. Many young ladies tried to vote who were neither mothers nor tax-payers, and their ballots were rejected. The scenes at the polis, where women were electioneering, were novel. The ladies generally voted for the successful candidates.

An Indian and a Jug.

PEORIA, ILL., September 18.—Yesterday Mr. John Yates, while engaged in taking out gravel near the pottery in this city, unearthed an Indian skeleton in a good state of preservation, and an old jug with-out a handle lying along side of the skull, as if Mr. Lo had taken his last drink, and seeing no prospect for more gave up the ghost. The glass has the name of "Joseph Haynes, New York, 1735," blown on the side in the shape of a tag.

Chinese Laundries Can't Be Boycotted.

Washington, September 18.—Members of the Knights of Labor state that the subject of boycotting the Chinese laundries has not been mentioned in their meetings. It is further said that a boycott cannot be issued against these laundries on the plea of cheap labor, as their prices are generally higher than those of the washer-women.

PISTOL AND RAWHIDE.

A Plucky Son Takes up the Quarrel of His Father.

BURKER HILL, ILL., September 16.—A bad feeling has existed for some time be-tween Hon. A. N. Yancy, ex-member of the Legislature from this district, and Dr. S. F. lawsuit here, in which Yancy represented the plaintiff and Hale was a witness for the defense. The opportunity offered was a favorable one, and before the was a favorable one, and before the Court could interfere hot words had passed between them. The affair culminated to-day by Thos. Hale, son of the doctor, confronting Yancy as he was coming down town, and with a drawn revolver demanding a retraction and satisfaction. Yancy drew his pistol, but Hale had the drop on him and compelled him to throw down his weapon. He then advanced and struck Yancy a terrible blow with his fist in the eye and forced him to retreat to his doorvard to the music of a rawhide, which Hale industriously plied. The end is not yet and grave fears are entertained that the outcome will be a serious one.

Disappeared on the Wedding Eye. Pottstown, Pa., September 16.-Law renceville, Chester County, just across the county line from here, has a sensation. Wm. Links is a rich and good-looking young farmer. His affections were centered on Ruth Fuller, the daughter of a neighbor, pretty and vivacious. Links is twenty-two years old, while his prospec-tive bride is nineteen. She received her education in a young ladies' seminary in New York City. During the past season they attended Sunday-school celebrations, picnics and church together. Their engagefriends, and several weeks ago the marlooked upon the wedding as a very good match, as it would unite two respectable match, as it would unite two respectable families of the county. Yesterday afternoon was the time set for the wedding at the residence of the lady's parents. Some fifty of their friends arrived by noon, and Rev. Drexel, a Methodist clergyman, was also on hand to tie the knot. The happy bridgroom stood among his friends receiving their congratulations, unconscious of the unhappy ending of the wedding day. Before the time for the ceremony the girl's mother was handed by a servant a note from her daughter. It ran in this way: "DEAR PARENTS: Don't worry on my account. I'm safe and in good hands. I've changed my mind and concluded not to get married today. Tell Will to bear up bravely. I will always be his firm and true friend. More than that—never. Good by with love and kisses." The girl's bridal dress was found in her toilet room. The guests quietly departed. Miss Fuller's parents say that they do not believe she has cloped, but is with one of her old schoolmates until the matter blows over. Linke says that he is unworthy of any man's love, and that he would not over. Links says that she is unworthy of any man's love, and that he would not marry her. The affair has caused a great sensation. It is thought that at the last moment Miss Fuller objected to being a

Through a Bridge.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., September 18.—The first section of a south-bound freight train on the Richmond and Danville road went through a bridge over Coddle Creek, twelve miles north of Charlotte, to-day. Twenty-three cars went down, and were wrecked, the vicinity being strewn with merchandise. Two unknown men, supposed to be tramps, were dead in the wreck. Firemen James Davenport and Will Owens were severely wounded. The accident was cause by repairs being made to the bridge. The train was flagged, but the distance was so short that the engineer could not stop it. This evening's north-bound passenger train went out from here via Statesville and Salisbury. The accident will block travel for two days.

Foreign Notes.

LONDON. September 16.—The failure of the English negotiations with the Porte is no longer doubted. Fear of Russia is be-lieved the Ottoman's reason. Frederick Kiel, the well known musician, is dead.
Austrians are boing expelled from Poland.
The Black Flags in Tonquin are preparing to harrass the French by a guerrilla war.
The Iriah League is determined upon a renewed system of boycotting on a large sente. English politicians are much disturbed by it.

A WATER-MUSEUM.

The Advantage It Has Over the Ordinar;

A water-museum consists of glass vessels containing fish, mollusks, larva, and such other creatures as will live in the small quantity of water these vessels Hale, a retired merchant and capitalist of hold. The great advantage that the this city, which was renewed in a recent water-museum has over the aquarium water-museum has over the aquarium is, that while the latter is bulky and has many dark corners in which you can see only with difficulty, if at all, the jars of the museum can be easily carried about and held to the light, so that you can roadily observe the smallest movecan readily observe the smallest move-ments of your specimens. Besides, in an aquarium you can have but one kind of water at a time, either salt or fresh, and you can keep only those specimens that will live together peaceably; but in a water-museum one may have both sorts of water (in different vessels), and both marine and fresh-water specimens This museum, or water-cabinet, too, costs very little, while an aquarium is not only expensive but troublesome.

We must first make sure of a sunny window, where the museum will be out of the way, and where there is room for a small table. Then we must forage for the vessels in the glassware shops, or at the dealers in chemical apparatus. I have often been able to pick up confectionery jars which I got cheaply because their tops were broken, which, of course, made no difference to me. I consider these the best for our purpose, in size from four inches in diameter by six in height to seven inches in diameter and aine in height. The jars must be placed on the table in the sunny window, so that they will all get plently of light, as this is necessary to most forms of life. One or two of the large jars had best be used for fish, and to make them attractive their bottoms should be covered with clean river sand and pebbles, or fragments of rock in the shape of grot-We must first make sure of a sunny fragments of rock in the shape of grot-toes, as the fish like to rest on these and to eat the almost invisible weeds that grow upon them. Of course, all the vessels must be filled with water and sprigs of aquatic plants, such as water-cress, vallisneria, or duck-weed, placed in them to keep the water pure. Many kinds of water insects are carnivorous. or prey upon the weaker species. Of course, it won't do to keep these in the same jar with their victims. A Sad Case of Poisoning is that of any man or woman afflicted with disease or derangement of the liver, resulting in poisonous accumulations in the blood, scrofulous affections, sick-headaches, and diseases of the kidneys, lungs or heart. These troubles can be cured only by going to the primary cause, and pusting the liver in a healthy condition. To accomplish this result speedily and effectually nothing has proved itself so efficacious as Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which has never failed to do the work claimed for it, and never will.
